Rail

Booking rail travel through Key Travel couldn't be easier. Our choice of booking methods means you have the flexibility to book your own tickets online or call our experienced rail team and leave it to us - whichever suits you.

UK Rail

Making your life easier

Whether you choose to book online in your own time or call us to book your rail ticket for you, we aim to make the process as simple as possible.

Seat Reservations

Our seat reservation request service does more than simply reserve you a seat on a train. With the option to choose between a quiet coach, power socket, table, forward facing/backwards facing, aisle/window, near a luggage rack or near a toilet, it enables you to select a seat that best suits you, ensuring a comfortable journey whatever your needs.

Getting your tickets

For your convenience we are able to arrange for your tickets to be posted directly to you, or if you prefer, you can collect them from the 'fast-ticket' machines at the station on departure.

Knowing the rules

By hovering over a fare you can easily view the key rules and restrictions for the fare displayed, such as the train operating company on which the ticket is valid. This can avoid costly mistakes and any inconvenience to your journey.

Saving you money

In order to help you drive down your costs and achieve maximum value from your rail spend, our booking tool always presents fares in order of cheapest ticket first.

'Best Fare Finder' and 'Ticket Alert'

To ensure you get the best deal, why not use the 'best fare finder' - a tool which quickly finds you the cheapest train tickets around your preferred travel date. You can also set up ticket alerts so that you are notified by email as soon as advance tickets become available to buy - especially handy if you regularly travel on the same route.

Expert Consultancy

If you choose to speak to our experienced rail team to book your rail ticket, you can rest assured that they will proactively search all different fare and ticket options to keep costs down and offer you the best match to your requirements.
